Federal Court Judgment - Roadshow Films Pty Ltd & Ors v iiNet Ltd

4 February 2010: iiNet welcomes the Federal Court's judgment.

We have never supported or encouraged breaches of the law, including infringement of the Copyright Act or the Telecommunications Act. Today's judgment is a vindication of that and the allegations against us have been proven to be unfounded.

iiNet has always been, and will continue to be, a good corporate citizen and an even better copyright citizen.

From our perspective today marks the end of the matter and we will continue to get on with the business. We will continue to provide Australians with the access to fast and cheap broadband with innovative new services and products.

While this case has been important not just for iiNet, but the entire internet industry, it has not distracted us from our core business.

Notably while this case unfolded:

- we launched our very successful BoB™ product, providing customers with the ultimate all-in-one plug and play internet and phone service;
- continued to grow our customers and revenue; and
- signed content agreements with a wide range of providers, including Xbox, NineMSN, TiVO, Bloomberg, the Sydney Film Festival, Village Roadshow Films and many others

So it has been business as usual for us, and with the case now behind us we look forward to continuing to do what we do best - delivering innovative content and products and great customer service.

...and run Australia's most innovative and successful internet company.

In relation to copyright holders, we conclude by again saying we do not and never have supported, encouraged or authorised illegal sharing or downloading of files in breach of the copyright laws.

We are eager to engage with the film industry and copyright holders to make this material legitimately available.

Finally, we thank all those who have support us through this process, the iiNet staff, our loyal customers and investors, the internet industry and others and notably our legal team who worked tirelessly to achieve this important result today.

About iiNet

iiNet was established in 1993 and listed on the ASX in 1999, growing from a small Perth business into the third largest Internet Service Provider in Australia. The company now supports over 750,000 broadband, telephony and dialup services nationwide, with revenues of over $400m, and proudly employs around 1300 people in Perth, Sydney, Auckland and Cape Town.

iiNet's goal is to lead the market with the best internet access products and then differentiate with genuine, plain speaking customer service. The company has its own high speed ADSL2+ network reaching around 4million households across Australia, the largest Voice over IP network in the country, and is delighted to have led yet again with Naked DSL, recognised by PC User Magazine as the 2007 Product of the Year.
